

Our Card is the Real Deal.

In April 2012, the State of Colorado published a study exploring which CPR certification and recertification cards, from which organizations, were most likely to be accepted.

Their conclusion? The physical quality of the card had a direct impact on the employer's likelihood of accepting it. Employers are much more likely to accept your card if it looks and feels professional.

When it comes to CPR cards, quality matters. That's why our cards are the best quality on the market. Made of tough, double-sided waterproof vinyl, this card is even better quality than the AHA certification card. And we know first-hand that employers throughout the country view it favorably.

So go with the card that makes the best first impression. Pass your test, and we'll mail yours for free.
