

We're A Family Business.

Our founder, Dr. Mary Williams, is a mother of five children. Her family is heavily involved in CPRCertified.com, including running the website, providing customer service, producing the videos, and more. If you call our customer service line, chances are you'll speak with a member of Dr. Williams' family.

Dr. Williams is a Registered Nurse with licensure in California and Texas, as well as a Doctor of Chiropractic. She discovered a passion for teaching when she became an American Heart Association-certified CPR trainer; she now has over a decade of experience teaching CPR to nurses and other healthcare professionals.

Dr. Williams and her family are committed to making CPR training accessible to everyone. Our company was founded with the goal of providing interesting and challenging CPR certification and recert classes to busy professionals. We hope that your experience studying with us is informative, convenient, and a lot of fun.
